IN MEMORIAM

Marty Messinger, CBS Corporation's first Chief Compliance Officer and the longtime chief legal officer for the CBS Television Stations group, passed away unexpectedly on July 19 at his home in East Hampton, New York. Messinger retired in December 2014 following a remarkable 36-year career with Westinghouse Broadcasting and CBS.

Marty Messinger

"The counseling and representation our stations received under Marty's leadership was the best in the business," said Jonathan Anshell, Executive Vice President and General Counsel, CBS Television. "As importantly, Marty was a friend and mentor to many of us, and he took a genuine interest in the lives and careers of colleagues throughout the company. Marty will be deeply missed, and he leaves behind a wonderful legacy." Added Peter Dunn, President, CBS Television Stations: "I know I speak for everyone at our stations who had the great pleasure of knowing and working with Marty when I say we are heartbroken by his sudden and unexpected passing. Marty was a wonderful friend and a tremendous counselor who provided an invaluable guiding light within our company. We will miss his words of wisdom, his terrific sense of humor and the deep love that he had for CBS and all of his colleagues." Funeral services were held on July 25 at Most Holy Trinity Church in East Hampton. In lieu of sending flowers, the family suggests that friends and colleagues consider making contributions to Memorial Sloan Kettering Hospital or Save the Children, two organizations that were among Marty's favorite charities.

Bette Wilk

Long time CBS employee Bette Wilk passed away July 22 in New York. She began at the Company in the Columbia Record Club (Columbia House) out of high school in the 1960s and worked in various capacities at CBS. For many years she was Administrative Assistant & Ticket Coordinator at CBS Sports, in addition to stints with CBS Television Stations and CBS Affiliate Relations. Although she formally retired from the Company in 1999, she continued to work freelance up until 2014, lastly as Temporary Ticket Coordinator for Upfront Presentations, CBS Marketing & Promotion -- Special Events. A funeral service was held at Mt. Carmel Cemetery in Queens on Sunday, July 26.

SIMON & SCHUSTER EXPANDING N.J. DISTRIBUTION FACILITY

Simon & Schuster New Jersey

"Distribution clients have always been a major component of our business strategy, and with this expansion of our Riverside facility we are committing significant resources to growing our family of clients, and to maintaining best-in-class service for our existing clients."

-- Carolyn Reidy, President and Chief Executive Officer of Simon & Schuster

Anticipating growth in its distribution client business, Simon & Schuster has commenced work on an expansion of its Riverside Distribution Center in Delran, NJ. The facility operates as the publishing company's primary warehouse, distribution and customer service center for its North American operations, shipping books to retail, wholesale and specialty accounts for both Simon & Schuster and its roster of distribution clients. When finished, the expansion will add 200,000 square feet to the facility's existing structure, and the high-bay/high-density design of the addition will allow the company to double pallet storage capacity of the facility. In addition to greater storage and title capacity, the expanded facility and state of the art equipment will contribute to improved flow of incoming and outgoing inventory, resulting in faster turnaround time for customer orders.
